FOUR WESTERNERS SLATED FOR PENN AT START OF YEAR

Peck, Wheelchel, Sergeant, and Smith, Members of Title Team, Enter Whatron School

By BRYAN MORSE.

Four members of Western High School's championship basketball team of last winter are entering the University of Pennsylvania next fall. Raymond Peck, captain of the title team; two years; John Wheelchel, Stuart Smith, and Richard Sergeant have entered the Whatron School at Penn.

These boys with Lester Peine won the basketball title here last winter, scoring twenty-one victories and but three defeats. In no game last year, when all five were playing from the start of the game was the team defeated. One or two of the players were out of the game when defeats were registered so that the record is a clear one of twenty-one victories.

Peck has been prominent in three sports at Western for the past three years, as has Wheelchel. Both boys have been mainstays of the football, baseball and basketball teams and have enviable records. This spring Peck was out of the game with tonsillitis and has failed to measure up to standard. Wheelchel is leading the high school hitters at present.

Sergeant has played football, baseball and basketball at Western, earning letters in each sport. While Smith has won his letter in football and was a most consistent court coverer in basketball last winter. The defensive tactics of Smith had much to do with Western's success.

Penn will get four remarkably good athletes. Peck and Wheelchel are the best all-around athletes at the Georgetown school. The two champions won at Western in basketball in the past two years, including the decisive defeat of the Wellesley High School five, champions of Greater Boston last winter, were won by this team, which had a high rating.

Word came from Tomie that Sam Miller, of this city, Tomie School's phenomenal pitcher, will enter Lafayette College in September. Miller placed himself in the no-hit, no-run class and established a record for Tomie on the 15th of April, when he shut out the Gilman Country Club. He pitched ten innings of 15 games, and throughout the season Miller averaged twelve strikeouts in each game, and allowed the visitors only four runs. He throws a remarkably sharp-breaking spitball, and uses a clever side-arm delivery. He keeps the batter guessing, uses good judgment, has lots of speed, and almost perfect control. In the Hill game he struck out fourteen of the opposing batters, and proved that he is one of the best pitchers in the East today, as Hill had already beaten Conway Hall and the Princeton Freshmen.

Miller is 4 feet 3 inches tall, weighs about 170 pounds and possesses an ideal build for a pitcher. Without doubt, he will prove the sensation of next year's college toasters.

SHRINE AND GROTTA PLAN FOR ANNUAL BALL GAME

Please don't rain tomorrow. That is the plea of the members of the Masonic fraternity. Tomorrow afternoon the annual game for the benefit of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home is scheduled to be played at American League Park. In addition to the ball game an attractive program of festivity, before and during the contest, has been arranged. Here are the plans:

1:30—Automobile parade, in charge of Dr. Mark F. Finley, chief marshal, starting promptly at this hour from Thirteenth and I streets northwest, headed by the Shrine and Grotto bands. It is expected that 200 or more machines will be in line over the following route: North on Thirteenth to K, west to Eighteenth, south to Pennsylvania avenue, east on Pennsylvania avenue to Sixth, north on Sixth to E, west on E to Tenth, north on Tenth until Vermont avenue is reached, Vermont avenue, east on T, and thence to park, reaching the grounds about 2:30.

2:30 to 3, and during game—Concert by the Shrine and Grotto bands.

3 o'clock—Play starts, with William G. Betts and Charles King umpiring.

There will also be special "stunts" by chosen coaches and some defiant rooting in the stand.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC TITLE IS SOUGHT

Washington Golfers Finish Well Up in Front of Qualifying Round.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 16.—With the Middle Atlantic Golf Association team trophy safely won by the Columbia Country Club, Washington's golfers are today going strong for the championship on the Rowland Park course. Seven out of the first sixteen are Washington players from Columbia and the Washington Country Club.

Baltimore's two cracks, Clarke Corkran, who won the medal in the qualifying round yesterday, with 157, and T. W. Sasser, have drawn worthy opponents in the first round, which started off this morning. Corkran is opposed by Dr. L. L. Harban, the Columbia crack, winner of the Washington Country Club tournament this spring, and former winner of many tournaments in this section. Sasser is playing H. C. Peck, of the Country Club of Virginia, one of the strongest golfers in the State. Donald Woodward and N. A. Dempsey, two of the best Washington players, are opposed in today's draw. Washington men who qualified in the first sixteen, besides those mentioned, are Roy Pickford, Washington Country Club; George P. James, Columbia, who was third in the qualifying round yesterday; W. C. Ballantyne, Columbia, former title winner; and Eddie Eynon, District champion.

The pairings for the first sixteen are as follows:

First sixteen—10:40, Corkran vs. Harban; 10:45, Sasser vs. E. B. Eynon; 10:50, Ballantyne vs. Woods; 10:55, James vs. Cutler; 11:00, Sasser vs. Peck; 11:05, Meeker vs. Jenkins; 11:10, Pickford vs. Elliott; 11:15, N. A. Dempsey vs. Woodward.

Terminal Racquetters Start Off Tournament

Sixteen entries have been received for the Terminal Railroad Y. M. C. A. championship tennis tournament, which is to get under way tomorrow afternoon on the association's courts, east of Union Station. Several good racketeers are included among the competitors and some interesting matches are anticipated.

GAME'S UNCERTAINTY SHOWS THIS YEAR

Batting Averages of Magee, Collins, and Hal Chase Furnish This Testimony.

No matter from what angle you may regard it, baseball is the most uncertain of all sports. It is, no doubt, because of that uncertainty that the game has attained such tremendous popularity. These may be mere platitudes, but in the light of the latest batting averages they bear repetition. A $20.00 basket, we are reminded by the figures, may turn into a lemon quicker than it takes the real citrus fruit to turn ripe.

This uncertainty in baseball has by some been interpreted unwisely. Some critics who evidently do not know the war is over are pointing to Lee Magee's rather anemic batting average of .238 as an index to the real caliber of the Federal League. They regard Benny Kauff's inability to bat better than .375 as another piece of incontrovertible evidence that the late lamented circuit ranked with the Three I League.

This is no defense of the Federal League. The quicker that ill-advised project is forgotten the better. Yet we are forced to query: What testimony may we gather regarding the class of the American League from the fact that Eddie Collins is batting .248 Jack Barry is down to .217, Stuffy McInnis is having a hard time staying at even .182 and Frank Baker cannot attain the 20 mark?

The answer is that same old platitude: It's the uncertainty of baseball, nobody would have suspected last winter that June 11 was going to see Schang hitting only .209, while Bill Hinchman was hammering the pill in the National League for .319.

The Federal League Hal Chase did not rank anywhere near Magee as a batter, yet Chase is pounding the home-ride for .322.

This triangle—Magee, .318; Hinchman, .319; Chase, .322—by some even be construed as an aspersion on the National League. Yet according to our way of looking at it, this is the one year in which the American League has nothing on the senior circuit. In fact, we have a suggestion that, averaging the teams up the National classes just a bit above the Johnson wheel.

Again we want to harp on the uncertainty of baseball. We note that Joe Jackson is hitting .321 and playing the game of his life for the White Sox. Had the fanlike owners so desired they could have got Jackson in return for allowing Baker to go to Chicago. Had Jackson come to New York Masei would never have broken his shoulder blade, as he would have played at third. Still, we are mighty glad to have Baker with us. He's going to do a lot better before July 1.

CHICAGO, June 16.—By staging a rally in the ninth inning yesterday, Boston sent two markers across the plate, defeating the White Sox by a 2-to-1 score. Russell was hit hard all during the game, but sensational fielding by the Chicago fielders saved him until the ninth, when four hits and a sacrifice were made off him. The score:

Boston 000 000 002—2 11 2
Chicago 000 000 100—1 1 1

Batteries—Thomas, Leonard and Agnew; Russell, Williams and Schalk.
